

ALONSO GONZALEZ

LATIN JAZZ QUINTET

Multicultural Latin Jazz Band
"Alonso Gonzalez Latin Jazz Quintet" is one of the hottest bands in Asia today

The band was created by the Colombian percussionist Alonso Gonzalez in Kuala Lumpur with musicians from Malaysia, UK, China and Colombia in 2005, since then the group has been performing at festival stages such as Kuala Lumpur International Jazz Festival, Sunrise Jazz Festival, International Kuching Jazz Festival, Heineken Jazz Festival Hua Hin, Cartagena de Indias JazzFest, IP

International Jazz Festival, Public Jazz Festival, Hong Kong International Jazz Festival, among others.

Alonso Gonzalez Latin Jazz quintet is based in Hong Kong brings to the stage fresh and exiting tropical music featuring a mix of jazz harmonies and melodies with contemporary and experimental Latin rhythms.

ALONSO GONZALEZ

The Colombian Percussionist Alonso Gonzalez is one of the most recognised latin-American musicians in Asia.

Alonso was part of the Roland Artist Band Malaysia and endorses LP (Latin Percussion). In 2015 Alonso released his first Album La Compostura, as a result of years traveling and recording musicians around the world.

He has performed and recorded for artists such as Steve Thornton Latin Jazz Quartet, Jose Thomas & Groove-unction, Greg Lyons, Farid Ali (Mister Gambus), Asiana Percussion Unit, Zainal Abidin, Resh Monu, among others.

CHRIS CARPIO

Chris grew up surrounded by rhythm and jazz. His father, Tony Carpio, exposed him to music of all types from an early age and began playing piano at 8 years old. While attending King George V School (KGV), Chris was an active member of the jazz band. He eventually joined the school orchestra due to pressure from Ken Haggarty, the former musical director at KGV. He was featured during the English School Foundation's (ESF) orchestra and was nominated for Musician of the Year. The following year, Chris was awarded the school-wide KGV music prize.

FRANKLIN TORRES

The Colombian Franklin Torres is one of the top bass players in Asia. After graduated from the Institute of Arts and Traditions in Barranquilla/Colombia, Franklin started performing with well known local artists and bands such as "Orquesta los timidos", Willi Calderon, and the Barranquilla all stars. His talent for the bass has taken him to perform around the world, in China, Malaysia, Singapore, India, Russia and many other countries, Franklin has been able to share his great knowledge of Latin Music.

BLAINE WHITTAKER

An Australian who has paid his dues by playing all around the world, went to New York in the Nineties to hone his craft and studied with Wynton Marsalis, George Coleman and Vincent Herring. Back in Australia, he became a member of James Morrison's touring band for almost ten years, Morrison being the country's foremost Jazz trumpeter and musical icon.

FERDINAND PANTIG JR.

The virtuoso Trumpet player from the Philippines Ferdinand Pantig Jr. is best known for his innovative approach to the Trumpet. From laying down solid melodies to fierce and blazing solos. He has been involved in major label recording sessions with artists in the region, and he was part of the Disney big band hong kong.

Listen to Alonso Gonzalez & Jazz Latino's music and discover all the musical elements from Africa, Latin-America and the Caribbean, inspired by the grooves of the Afro-Cuban percussion, rhythms from Puerto Rico, the Caribbean "Calypso" and of course elements from the north coast of Colombia, like the "Cumbia".

All these elements combined with Jazz chords and exiting melodies is what makes Alonso Gonzalez & Jazz Latino's music.
